CONTRIBUTING ARTISTS & WRITERS The Usual Gang of Idiots
INSIDE BACK COVER A MAD Fold-In by Johnny Sampson
VARIOUS PLACES Drawn Out Dramas by Sergio Aragonés
COVER ARTIST Terry Wolfinger

The vintage MAD pieces reprinted in this issue were produced in a time that was less mindful and sensitive to matters of race, gender, sexual identity, religion, and food allergies. The text of these articles is presented mostly unaltered (and with crossed fingers) for historical reference.

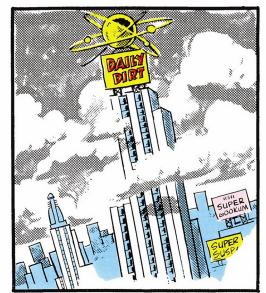

When Fidel (the man with the sword) ordered Antonio Prohias (the man with the pen) arrested for his anti-Castro cartoons, the Cuban artist fled to the U.S., where he then graced MAD's pages with...

Vice President Mike Pence has an eating disorder. No, it's not anorexia, bulimia or posting pictures of every damn thing he eats on Instagram. His problem is refusing to eat with a woman who isn't his wife. Why? Maybe Pence thinks he's such a hunk that women won't be able to keep their hands off him. Or maybe he fears that he won't be able to keep his devilish hands off them — or because when he was governor of Indiana, he enacted a handful of draconian reproductive-rights laws and he doesn't want to get an earful about what an awipe he is. Whatever the reason, if you're female and have business to attend to with the veep, pack a lunch — because to Mike Pence, dining alone with a female is his Kryptonite.

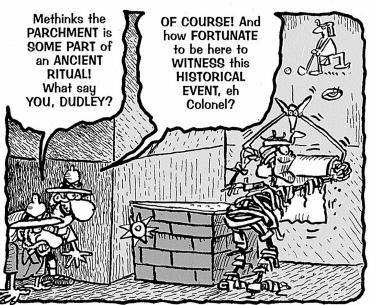

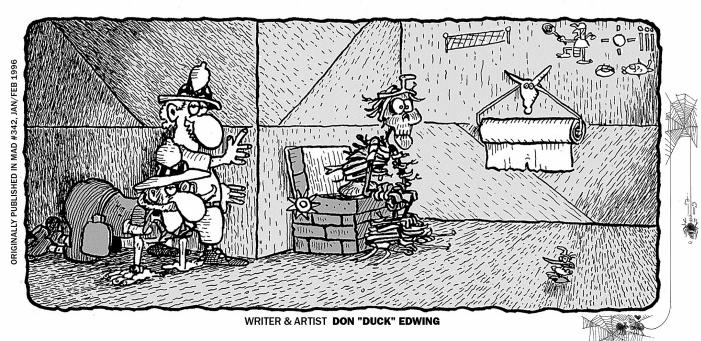

THE ASININE ARCHEOLOGICAL ATROCITY

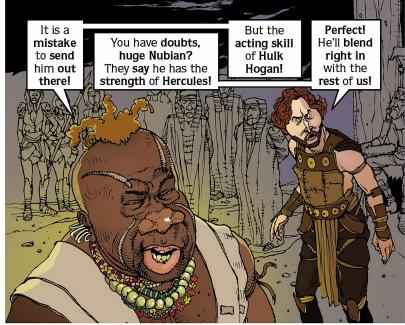

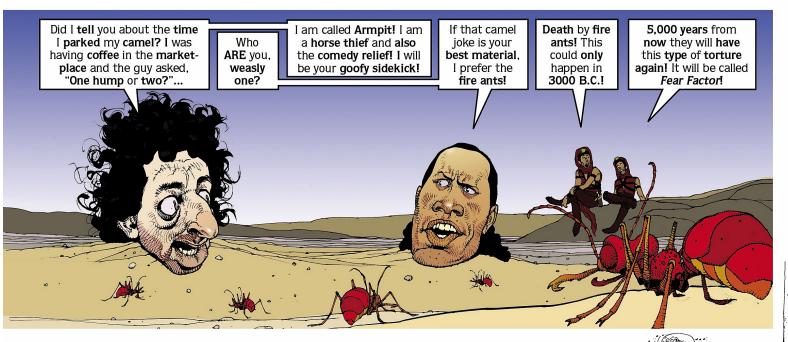

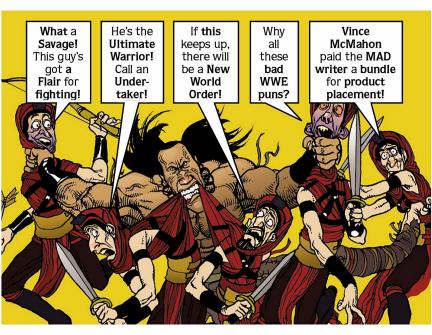

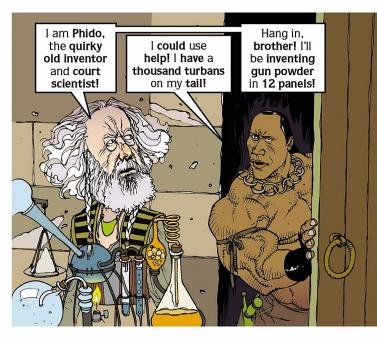

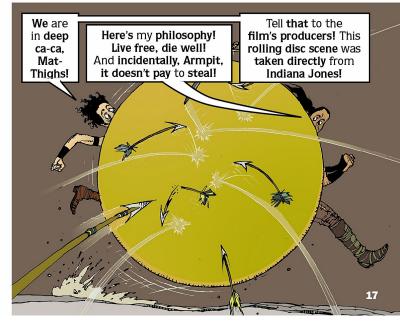

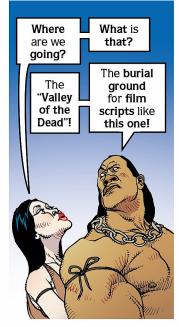

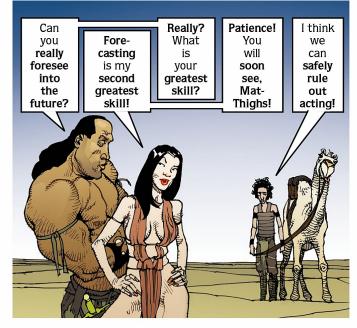

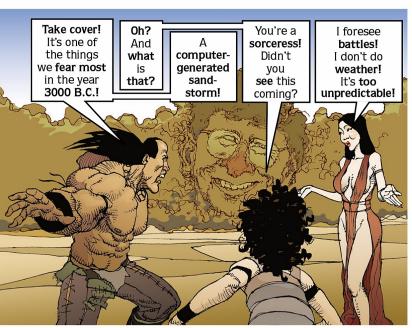

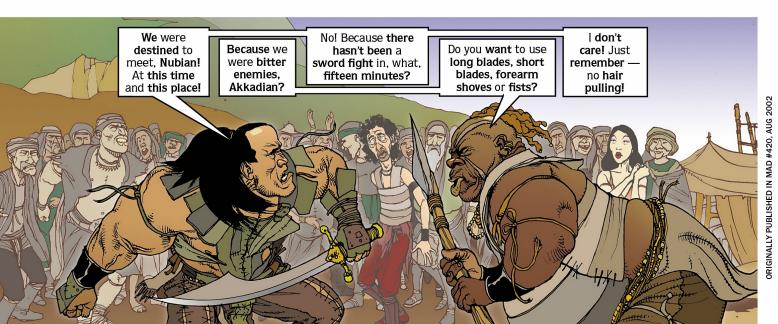

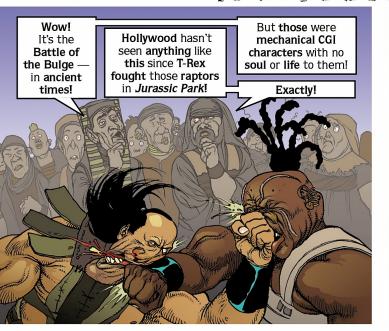

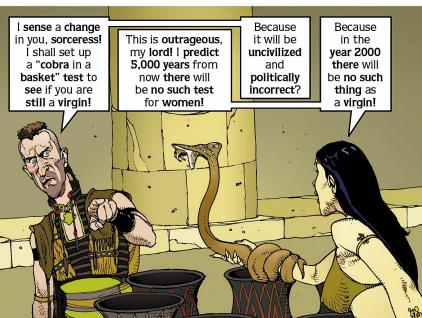

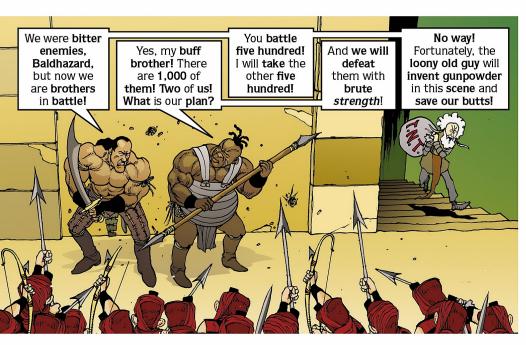

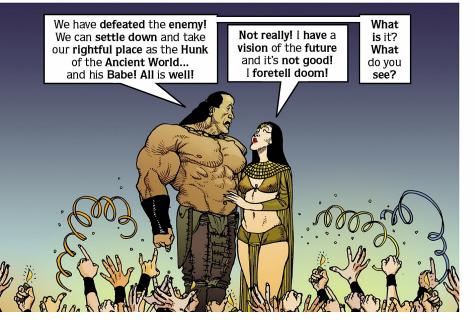

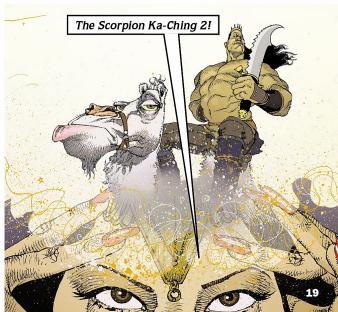

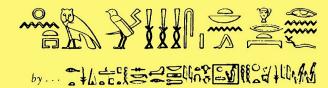

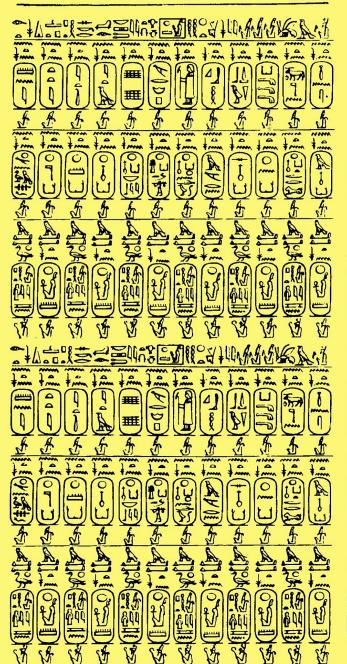

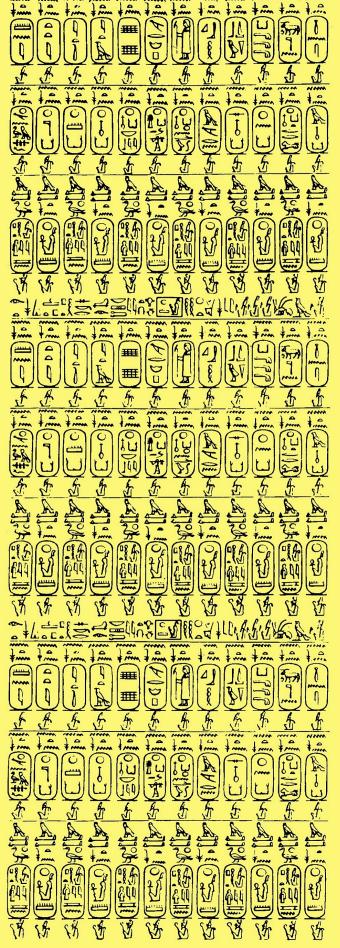

And now, once again, in line with our purpose of informing as well as entertaining, MAD turns serious for a moment. Once again, in order to bring the future into focus, we present this month an article by a famous analyst on Egypt. Yes, it is well to watch Egypt, keystone of the east. In Egypt the decisions of tomorrow will be made in the future. We are sure that this article will stress that fact even more so, and so we present this article called . . .

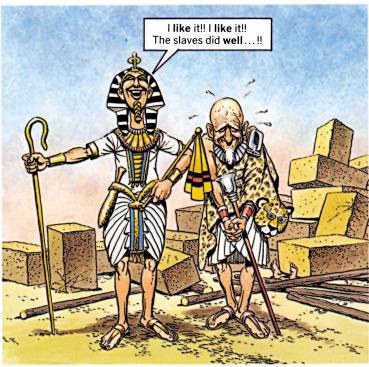

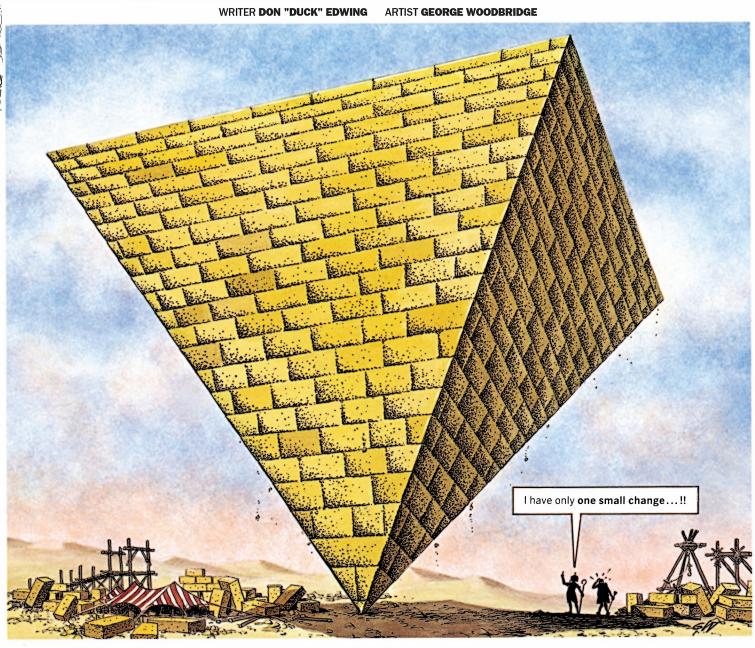

WRITER HARVEY KURTZMAN

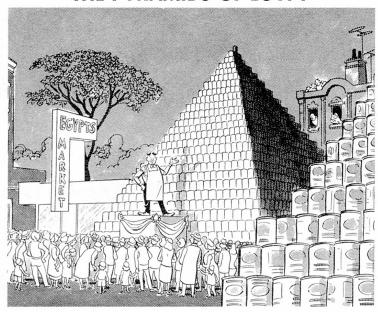

Just about every history book tells of "The Seven Wonders Of The World", great manmade marvels that are supposed to make you say, "Gee, ain't they wonderful!" Well, don't be fooled! Somebody is covering up! Actually, they were a disgrace! Because MAD's "Seven Wonders" Editor spent the better part of one whole day probing into this mess, and he discovered that "The Seven Wonders Of The World" were really . . .

THE PYRAMIDS OF EGYPT

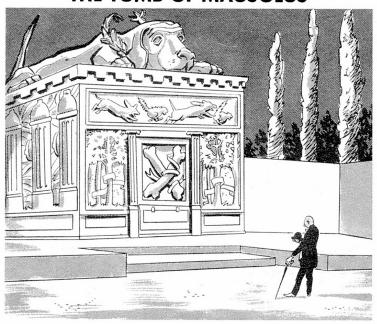

To sell more soup, Lemuel T. Egypt, a grocer in Kokomo, Ind., constructed two huge pyramids, each containing 77,890 cans of Campbell's Soup with no layer having more than two cans of the same variety. Grocers from all over West-Central Indiana flocked to Kokomo to admire the pyramids, until, one day, a determined woman demanded a can of Concentrated Chicken Gumbo. The resultant catastrophe accounted for 27 lives, including Egypt, 3 vegetable assorters, four meat men, and the Midwest correspondent for Time.

THE HANGING GARDENS OF BABYLON

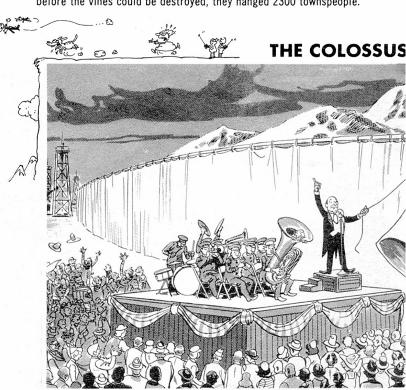

Eric Lanyard, a bitter hermit living in Babylon, Long Island, so despised his neighbors that he decided to conceal his house by means of a hanging garden. He sowed his roof with seeds of the fast-growing African Ivy plant. When Lanyard awoke the next morning, he found himself a prisoner, cut off from the outside world by dense vines. Eventually, Lanyard died of starvation, and before the vines could be destroyed, they hanged 2300 townspeople.

THE TOMB OF MAUSOLUS

Ardsley Swill, a Cleveland dog fancier, spent thirty-one years planning and building a tomb for his pet dachshund, Mausolus. The magnificent air-conditioned structure contained one-hundred and seven separate vaults, each with its own hydrant. The floors were paved with bones, and oil portraits of Mausolus hung on every wall. On the eve of the tomb's dedication, however, Mausolus eloped with a dalmation and hasn't been heard of since.

Renfrew "Make-A-Million" Rhodes, retired Fort Worth oilman, hated which he would call "The Colossus of Rhodes". He chose as the site a colony of moles. Rhodes' friends laughed at him, shouting, "Men creating the world's highest mountain (31,371 feet). The moles, how-swallowed up Rhodes' mountain, Rhodes, and 72,890 spectators.

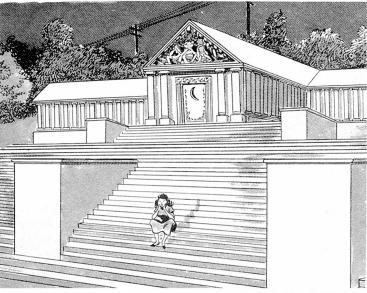

The Seven Blunders Of The World

THE STATUE OF ZEUS

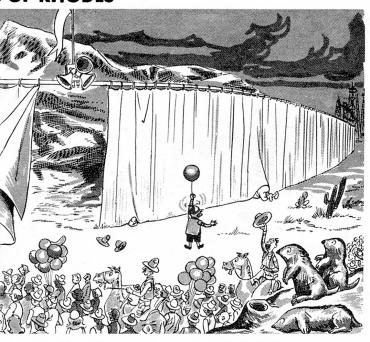

Lancelot O. Zeus, president of the Zeus Bath Soap Company, was a fanatic believer in cleanliness. Every day, he took 12 showers and 3 baths, and even started a campaign to have the word "dirt" banned from the dictionary. As a personal tribute to cleanliness, Mr. Zeus erected a statue of himself, entirely out of soap on the wide lawn of his bay front mansion in San Francisco. He'd just finished putting in place the final, 184,000th bar of soap, when a violent thunder storm struck. The result produced an onslaught of suds which clogged the engines of 19 freighters, capsized 300 fishing boats, and paralyzed shipping in ports as far away as Yokohama and Oakland.

THE TEMPLE OF DIANA

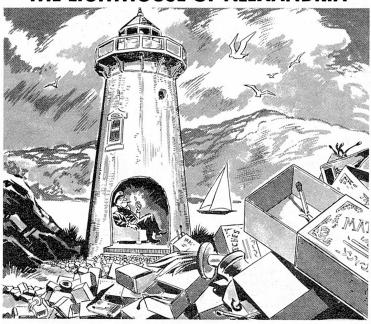

Spumoni heiress, Diana Dregs, had one great ambition in life, and that was to have her own temple on the grounds of her estate in Boston. While touring Europe, she discovered the marble fragments of what experts claimed to have been a great Grecian temple. It took Miss Dregs 23 years to pick up each of the 89,374 pieces of marble and have them shipped back to Boston. She then spent the next 17 years putting the pieces together. When the tremendous task was completed, she found that instead of a temple, she had reconstructed the largest ancient Grecian marble outhouse known to man.

OF RHODES

the sight of the flat Texas plains and decided to build his own mountain of his peak an area covered by a large mound of dirt already dug up by can't make mountains out of molehills!" But Rhodes went ahead, eventually ever, objected to all this and speedily dug a 32,000 foot crater which thereby proving "Moles can make manholes out of mountains!"

THE LIGHTHOUSE OF ALEXANDRIA

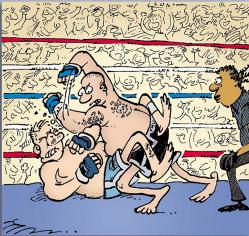

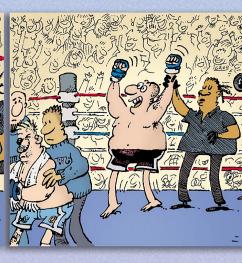

It took Otis Bailiwick of Alexandria, Virginia, 54 years to build his full-sized lighthouse made entirely out of matches. One night after he'd moved in, while having a cigarette, Otis absent-mindedly flicked a live ash to the floor. The blunder not only leveled his life's work, but the resultant glare attracted over twenty-seven million moths from nearby states, so that two dozen large woolen mills in the immediate vicinity were completely wiped out.

LESSER-KNOWN COMIC BOOK VILLAINS

WRITER
JEFF KRUSE

The Vague Viper

COMIC BOOK DEBUT: Just Die, Already #133, 1989.

ENEMIES: That Guy in the Green Boots; LadyPerson.

SUPER-POWER: After being exposed to radiation, she developed amazing skill at the card game Uno.

SPLIT PERSONALITY: Sometimes joins with the forces of good, which is in keeping with her role as leader of the Ambivalence League of America.

WEAPON: The Pamphlet of Lies.

M.O.: One of the rare non-violent bad gals, she ties up crime fighters with nuisance lawsuits.

Professor generico

COMIC BOOK DEBUT: Teen Geezer #14, 1996.

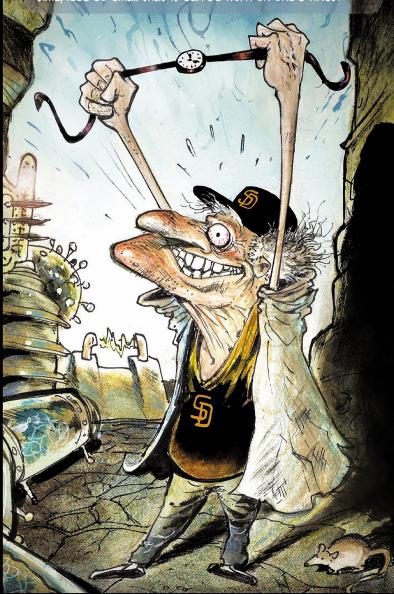

ORIGIN OF EVIL: Experimented with a bizzarre potion that made him think he was a member of the '87 San Diego Padres.

BACKGROUND: Acknowledged as one of the most brilliant scientists in his field, which, unfortunately, was intestinal bacteria. The creators could never find a way to make his evil non-disgusting.

CLAIM TO INFAMY: Gained a small measure of fame in 1997 when he became the one millionth "Scientist Gone Bad."

AMAZING POWER: Has the ability to re-grow his hair, should he lose any.

DIABOLICAL INVENTION: The PortaClock, an ingenious timepiece so small that it can be worn on one's wrist.

ARTIST TERRY DODSON ARTIST SAM KIETH

COMIC BOOK DEBUT: The Fairly Good 3, 1975 ORIGIN OF EVIL: Made most of his money by stealing it; though, in fairness, made much of it by lying to investors who gave it willingly. ENEMIES: Budgie Man; Medium-Sized Woman; and The Invisible Amoeba (a.k.a. The Fairly Good 3). GREAT TRIUMPH: Discovered the identity of Budgie Man, which wasn't really such a big deal, since his real name is Frank Budgie, and he's in the phone book.

THE YAKMASTER

COMIC BOOK DEBUT: Wonderful Stories of Wondrous Wonderment, 1956.

BACKGROUND: This comic was originally written in a Himalayan dialect spoken by around 200 people, and the translation is very iffy.

ORIGIN OF EVIL: The Yakmaster was the Son of the Emperor in the mountain kingdom of Mushni Timbala (or a hat maker, it's not really clear) when his father banished him, presumably to further the plot.

WEAPON: Something that looks like a blender with sharpened bamboo sticks protruding from it.

REVERSAL OF CLICHÉ: Though there's a Buddhist monastery close by, he traveled to Mississippi to be trained by Southern Baptist ministers.

CATCHPHRASE: Hard to tell — he's a bit of a mumbler.

COLORIST LAURA MARTIN

SECRET WEAPON: Has a special microchip in his brain allowing him to get free Sirius radio and cable reception.

HANDICAP: Due to a non-tragic immune disorder, he can only live in 78 degree weather near a large body of water containing salt, and needs rum-based medicine to survive.

DR UMBRAGE

COMIC BOOK DEBUT: Goldfish HellTroopers, 1989.

ORIGIN OF EVIL: Embarked on a life of crime when his high school guidance counselor suggested he was best suited for that field.

SCIENTIFIC BREAKTHROUGH: Can turn his internal organs invisible — but not his skin, so it's pretty useless.

DISCOVERY: Created a serum that causes excruciating pain, disfigurement and slow death. Although he could never find a way to use it for the betterment of mankind, the FDA fast-tracked it.

OTHER SCIENTIFIC BREAKTHROUGH: Discovered that he could create new life by mating with women. Not that this has ever happened.

REDEEMING QUALITY: Drives an alternative-fuel vehicle. Granted, it runs on the blood of his victims, but still, every little thing we can do for the environment helps.

ARTIST CHRIS BACHALO ARTIST KEVIN NOWLAN

ANNEY

COMIC BOOK DEBUT: Sgt. Hatemonger & Pals, 1982.

MOST ANNOYING ASPECT: The acronym doesn't actually stand for anything.

HANDICAP: Speaks with both a stutter and a lisp, making him "The most misunderstood villain in the comic universe."

WEAPON: The Big Gun That Shoots Bullets.

GIMMICK: A clothing obsession similar to the other villain, Mad Hatter — only involving lobster bibs.

DEMISE: Hit in the groin by a meteorite. (Fans were given a unique opportunity to vote online what type of death he would receive: unspeakable, horrific, appalling, or ghastly. They chose horrific.)

COMIC BOOK DEBUT: Mildly Surprising Tales, 1975.

ORIGIN OF EVIL: His brain was altered in a fender-bender involving his car and another car.

COSTUME: Green bowtie, racquetball goggles and Underoos with his own likeness.

DOWNFALL: Was driven insane by the HamsterDance song, which he could not get out of his head.

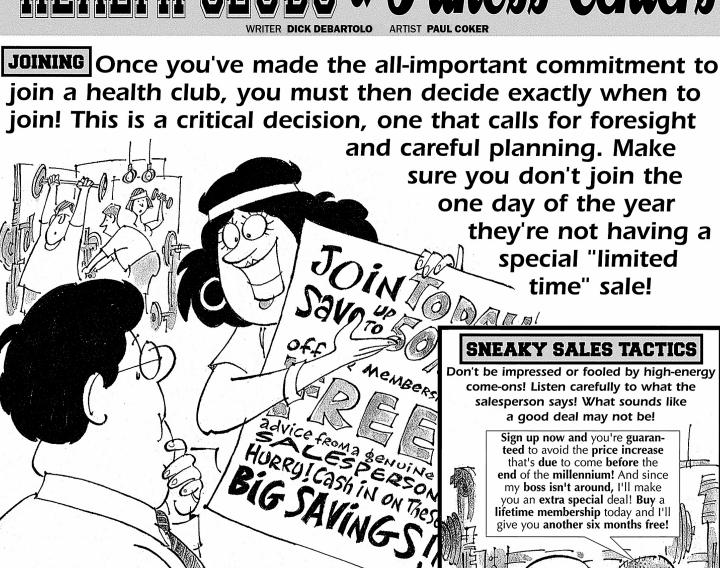

WEAPON: A special potion gives him the agility of a rhino and the strength of a hummingbird.

FUN FACT: The Clarinetist was created by Stan Lee, but, of course, not the Stan Lee.

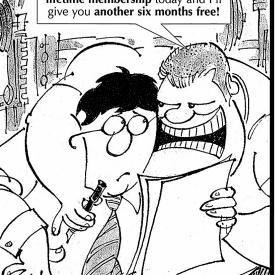

Not long ago, people who wanted to stay in shape went to the gym. Today, they go to the "health club" or "fitness center." The difference? About $50 to $75 a month! THE EQUIPMENT

A good club provides a wide variety of equipment so that you can work each muscle group individually. Beware of clubs promoting machines that claim to "do it all."

To increase profits, many clubs sell clothing and other merchandise with their logo on it. While this is an acceptable practice as a side business, beware of clubs that carry it too far.

PERSONAL TRAINERS

Be sure to choose an experienced and fully qualified Personal Trainer, one who works out regularly and appears physically fit. On the other hand, beware of Personal Trainers who are too physically fit. They are likely to pay more attention to themselves than to you!

GYM ETIQUETTE

It is acceptable to strike up a conversation with other club members and to make plans to meet later for coffee or dinner. However, one should not join a health club strictly with the intention of making out. Pushing for commitment at a health club is not a good thing!

Gym clothes should be laundered APPAREL after each use. If you notice a foul odor when opening your locker, consider washing your workout clothes. If your workout clothes have eaten through your metal locker door, you will have to replace both them and the locker!

DON'T RUSH YOUR DECISION!

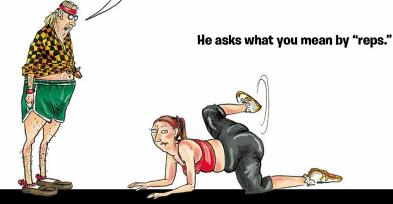

With hundreds of health clubs in every city, your entire exercise program can consist solely of "checking them out"! Ask for a free trial workout at each one and you won't have to actually join a club for years! Then, just use a different name and start the process over!

Let's face it, you need to get in shape. But you can't do it alone — you're the one who got yourself into this mess! (Remember cheeseburger pancakes? That was YOUR idea!) You're gonna need a trainer! But before you pick one, you'd better keep an (increasingly-fat) eye out for these...
